Fully Customizable

- The plans are addressed to “substitute teachers” but you can make a copy and customize for your unique educational environment.

Tips

- The Playbook is addressed to “substitute teachers” but you can make a copy and customize for your unique educational environment.
- Review the activities in the Student Guide. You can spread them across multiple days or assign some as homework. For example, you might leave a note for the substitute that says “Students are required to complete activities #-#, and take the rest home (due next class).”
